

Bloor Apartments

OSHAWA

The Bloor Apartments were abandoned when the first developer ran out of money to complete them. Lancer was asked to oversee the re-design and completion of the building for people of modest means.

As a landmark that is clearly visible from Highway 401, it was felt that it should make a significant and cheerful architectural statement.

The 36 one-bedroom suites are always highly in demand and they have encouraged further growth in the surrounding area.
